

26 June 2007

Dear heritage advisors

local government heritage and planning officers heritage consultants and heritage professionals

heritage network seminar 2007

I am writing to invite all local government heritage advisors, heritage planners and officers, heritage consultants and other heritage professionals to attend our annual heritage network seminar 2007.

Attached is the agenda for the seminar to be held on Friday 17 August at the Riverside Theatres in Parramatta.

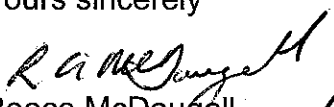

We received extremely positive feedback on last year's seminar and have been working hard with your input, to design a seminar program that covers many areas of interest. Once again, the Heritage Office is looking forward to hosting an even better seminar for your enjoyment in 2007.

As you will see, the seminar program is packed with speakers and topics that we believe engages leadership and best practice local government heritage management:

- This year, for the first time we are offering parallel sessions, so with 22 sessions on offer, you will have some hard decisions to make about which presentations to attend!
- There is a wide range of topics on offer: funding opportunities; LEPs roll-out updates; local and state government liaison; and a range of guidelines for adaptive reuse, conservation area, state heritage register nominations and interpretation checklists currently available or in preparation.
- We are delighted to present guest speakers including: Anne Pitchers from the Department of State and Regional Development; Caroline Butler-Bowdon from the Historic Houses Trust; Mary Knaggs from the NSW Government Architect's Office; and Parramatta City Council's Lord Mayor Councillor David Borger.

I am looking forward to welcoming you to the seminar and to your participation in the day!

Yours sincerely

Reece McDougall 27/6/07
Executive Director

Heritage Office

Working with the community to know, value and care for our heritage